

I have been fortunate to be a part of each of your lives over the last several years and to have become a part of the community not only as a physician but as a resident. It is with mixed emotions that I am announcing my departure from Harris Women's care and will no longer be seeing patients here as of July 23th, 2017. I am relocating to take a position as a Faculty physician at a University hospital in Louisiana. This move will place us closer to family and allow me to teach young physicians in training, which was instrumental in this decision. I would like to thank all my patients for allowing me the privilege and honor to take part in your care over the last five years. You will continue to be taken care of with the same quality and compassion of care by the providers at Harris Women's care.

I want to assure you that Harris Women's Care and Harris Regional Hospital are dedicated to the needs of women's health care in the community. They are continuing to invest in renovations and new technology for our labor & delivery, mother-baby unit as well as for gynecological surgery needs. They are dedicated to improving on our current services offered not only in the above-mentioned units but also in the emergency room with the renovation and expansion.

Your records will remain at Harris Women's Care and any ongoing contact information can be obtained from the Harris Women's Care office. Please contact the office at (828) 631-8913 to arrange an appointment to establish with a new provider. Harris Women's Care staff will be available to make this transition as seamless as possible.

Sincerely,

Mila Shah-Bruce, MD
